EVENT DESCRIPTION:

The Humanities and Technology Camp (THAT Camp) is a low-cost participatory event designed to introduce students to digital technologies and develop interest in digital literacy. THAT Camp @ Molloy is an intentionally interdisciplinary event and draws from a broad range of expertise in digital composition, digital art, electronic music and sound, and new media. The event emphasizes real world skills through the practical application of digital technologies.

Sessions will be between 45 and 70 minutes. Lunch will be provided.

Sessions include: Digital Writing, New Media, Digital Art, Electronic Music & Sound, and Philosophy with a Wrap Up "Manifesto Session"!
